

SENATORS TO QUAZ WILSON ON MEXICO

Conference Tomorrow Night
Also May Unfold Attitude Toward Japanese.

Intricate and delicate questions of foreign relations will be discussed at the White House tomorrow night by President Wilson and members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It is understood that the Japanese and Mexican situations, the Nicaraguan situation and the Bryan peace treaties will be considered.

While the discussion is going on at the White House, Secretary of State Bryan will be in New York delivering a public address before the Asiatic Society.

The situation between this country and Japan with reference to a new treaty, including the subject of extradition, is delicate and embarrassing enough to have aroused the Administration to the necessity of putting a stop to its discussion.

The statement of Baron Makino, the Japanese foreign minister, tending to show there is harmony of purpose between Tokyo and Washington in negotiations to settle the Japanese question, has given satisfaction here, and if the negotiations are permitted to proceed in this spirit, it is likely a satisfactory adjustment can be reached.

In reference to the case of the President Wilson will tell the committee of his address from John Lind, and the fact of the Mexican situation, which have been withheld from the public and from Senators.

Senators on the committee resent the secrecy of the Administration with reference to Mexico. They think the Senate has the right to know the facts. It is expected, therefore, that President Wilson will be asked some plain questions as to what he intends to do.

From its office in the Southern building, the Navy League issued a statement yesterday endorsing the Navy department's recommendation that the famous old ship Constellation be moved in the Potomac river, to Potomac Park. The league quotes Rear Admiral Victor Blue's recommendation that $100,000 be spent in restoring either the Constellation or the Constitution, in order to bring one of the vessels to life, and saw a century of service.

Somerset Commuters to Oppose Fare Increase

Notice of the establishment of a new fare between the District line and Somerset and Interlocking Maryland suburbs by the Washington Railway and Electric Company has caused the residents of the section, who are to be charged an extra fare, to be organized. The company announces that its order will become effective February 1. The committee will be engaged by the commuters and arguments will be made before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Leaders of the citizens' associations are that an agreement in writing was made with the railway company, guaranteeing the present fare between Washington and the suburbs.

Ends Life by Drinking Five Quarts of Alcohol

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 25.—Five quarts of pure alcohol, when he drank in five consecutive days, enabled Louis A. Robling, fifty-three years old, to make good his threat that he would end his life. The alcohol paralyzed his heart.

Robling's wife, Christina, told the office her husband had been out of work since the first of the year. He had a supply of alcohol which he used in his trade as a hard wood finisher.

Mrs. Robling said that on January 2, her husband had drunk his first quart of life and would drink himself to death. That day he drank a quart of alcohol. He repeated this on each succeeding day until Friday afternoon, when he became unconscious.

CONGRESS HEIGHTS.

The first anniversary of the Rev. Dr. E. E. Richardson as pastor of the Congress Heights Baptist Church will be observed Tuesday. Charles F. Purdy is chairman of the committee. There has been an increase of 90 per cent in membership during the year.

The movement to have a new Baptist Church erected here received an impetus last week, when a donation of $50 to the building fund was made through women's societies in the congregation. The edifice will occupy the same site as the present structure at Esther and Brothers places.

Citizens of Congress Heights have appealed to the Senate District Committee to give them a hearing when the District bill is being framed. Eight streets recommended by the committee for improvement at Congress Heights have been eliminated from the bill in the House, and citizens want them restored.

Esther Memorial Protestant Episcopal Church will call for a pastor for the present, the Rev. Willard G. Davenport, retired minister at Anacostia, having consented to serve as long as the congregation desires.

LAUREL.

The marriage of Miss India Ellen Soper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Soper, residing on Prince George street, and Harry Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Barton, residing near Laurel, took place yesterday at the parsonage of the Centenary Methodist Church. "With a Will," a three-act drama, will be given here at the opera house on the evening of February 20. The play will be produced by home talent and for the benefit of No. 3 Laurel Volunteer Fire Company, and a large house is expected.

Oyster suppers will be served next Thursday and Friday evenings for the benefit of the First Baptist Church. Miss Katie Browning, assistant postmistress, is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bradley are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son.

The Laurel High School will give a benefit performance at the opera house on February 7.

Another public meeting of citizens will be held at the Masonic Hall tomorrow evening to consider the proposition to improve the condition of the water supply, and to discuss the sewerage question.

Mrs. Edward Phelps has been removed to the Maryland University Hospital, at Baltimore, for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Tighe and Harry Jackson are in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Escaville are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

ROCKVILLE.

Dr. Eugene Jones, State senator from Montgomery county, will introduce in the legislature this week a bill for the establishment of camps or hospitals for indigent tuberculosis victims. The bill provides that each county which receives no hospital appropriation, and in which there is no tuberculosis hospital, may raise a sum not exceeding $5,000 a year, the State to contribute an equal amount. Control of the camp is to be vested in a commission, composed of the president of the county commissioners, president of the county medical society, a member of the State tuberculosis commission, and two others, one to be named by the commissioners and the other by the medical society.
